

Margaret M. Sullivan

Deputy Director for Business Development and Outreach, Mitchell Cancer Institute

Margaret Sullivan, a native of Mobile, received her undergraduate degree from Stanford University in Human Biology with a concentration in Health Care Management, and a MS in Health Policy and Management from Harvard School of Public Health.

Prior to joining the Mitchell Cancer Institute, she worked as a consultant for FLR Health Resources in Georgia and afterwards served in numerous capacities for the University of South Alabama. She was instrumental in the initial conception of a cancer institute at USA, and has served in multiple key roles during its start-up and implementation.

Ms. Sullivan was recently appointed as the USA-MCI Deputy Director for Business Development and Outreach. She has served as project manager for 2 outreach grants awarded to USA-MCI, and co-author on several publications. She is Secretary of the Alabama Comprehensive Cancer Control Coalition, and a participant in the Alabama Statewide Colorectal Cancer Roundtable.